

OUTSIDE SCHOLARSHIPS

Outside Scholarships are private sources of scholarships offered from outside organizations. You can also find scholarship opportunities through your or your parent's employer, your local library, church, community organizations, and local businesses in your area. The internet provides valuable information on financial aid programs and sources of aid. Several free scholarship search programs are available to kick start your search for outside scholarships. Beware of scholarship scams! The University strongly advises against paying for scholarship searches. Most legitimate websites DO NOT charge for scholarship help.
